

Eleanor Beer

GRAPHIC FACILITATION | WWW.ELEANORBEER.COM

Hello, I'm Eleanor and I'm a visual practitioner based near Cardiff in South Wales.

As a graphic facilitator, I combine my drawing and listening skills to capture key messages at meetings or events. Using large-scale graphics, I provide clarity by working with organisations to see and understand the bigger picture, breaking information down and feeding it back visually in real time.

Working on projects indoors and outdoors

Supporting your organisation with Graphic Facilitation

The process begins with an initial meeting or telephone conversation, to learn more about your organisation, to understand your event aims and objectives; and to work through the agenda with you step-by-step.

Once the finer details have been agreed, I will travel to the event with materials (paper roll, pens) and set up on the day by placing the paper on a suitable wall or board, to the side or near the front of the room.

Throughout your event, I will quietly listen to the discussions and ideas, synthesising the key messages and converting them into visuals for all to see.

Once the visual is complete, you have the option of having it scanned and converted into a digital PDF or JPEG file, to share the messages online or in print with the rest of your organisation. I like to call the visuals 'Maps that Travel', as they continue on the conversation, and to spread your messages, well after your event has finished!

