Research Capacity Meeting

São José do Rio Preto (FAMERP)

4th Dec 2019, 13h30 - 17h30

Participating Institutions
Programme

13h30 Welcome
Clinical studies on the interrelationship between Dengue and Zika
Maurício Nogueira - Faculdade de Medicina de São José do Rio Preto

13h40 Communities of Practice and Capacity Building: the REDe Network
Bonny Baker - The Global Health Network, University of Oxford

13h55 Preparing for a Rapid Research Response In Outbreaks: Introducing the ISARIC Network
Nina Jamieson - ISARIC, University of Oxford

14h10 An agenda to face inequalities in health
Juliana Corrêa - Fiocruz, Rio de Janeiro

14h25 Perspectives for rehabilitation of children with Congenital Zika Syndrome: the Go Zika Go initiative
Ana Carolina de Campos e Egmar Longo - Universidade Federal de São Carlos e Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Norte

14h40 Zika research: efforts during the outbreak and beyond
Celina Turchi - The Microcephaly Epidemic Research Group (MERG)

14h55 Sustainable Sciences Institute: 20 years of building scientific capacity worldwide
Maria Elena Penaranda - Sustainable Sciences Institute

15h10 Panel session: Q&A
15h30 Coffee break

15h50 REDe workshops initiative and regional activities
Luiza Lourenço - REDe Brazil, The Global Health Network

16h00 The Rio experience: vector surveillance
Márcio Galvão Pavan e Daniele Pereira de Castro - Fiocruz, Rio de Janeiro

16h15 The Sergipe experience: public management of outbreaks
Roque Pacheco de Almeida e Ricardo Gurgel - Universidade Federal de Sergipe

16h30 The Santa Cruz experience: motor functionality
Clécio Gabriel de Souza - Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Norte

16h45 The Recife experience: neurological syndromes
Cristiane Campello Bresani Salvi - Fiocruz, Recife

17h00 Group Discussions and Closing remarks