

Research in Global Health Emergencies

Tuesday 24th November 2020,
10.00 – 15.00 EAT

Chair(s): Dr Bernard Kikaire – Scientific Liaison Officer, Eastern Africa Consortium for Clinical Research (EACCR2), and Dr Julian Sheather - Writer and Consultant Ethicist, British Medical Association, Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF) and Nuffield Council on Bioethics

Time	Agenda
10:00	Welcome
10.10 – 10.30	Overview of research during epidemics, and identifying areas and preparing for research during epidemics Assoc. Prof Julius Lutwama – Deputy Director, Uganda Virus Research Institute (UVRI)
10.30 – 10.50	Process of obtaining ethical approvals during epidemics Dr Tom Lutalo – Chairman, UVRI Research Ethics Committee
10.50 – 11.10	Q&A with presenter panel
11.10 – 11.20	Break [10mins]
11.20 – 11.40	Safety of participants and research team during epidemics Dr Jane Achan - Senior Research ADVISOR Malaria Consortium, UK
11.40 – 12.00	Challenges (ethical) associated with Research in Global Health Emergencies Katharine Wright – Assistant Director, Nuffield Council on Bioethics
12.00 – 13.00	Q&A with presenter panel
13.00 – 13.30	Break [30 mins]
13.30 – 13.50	ALERRT Clinical Characterisation Protocol (CCP): multi national research response to a global health emergency; the African Story Dr Joseph Bonney - Emergency Medicine Specialist, Komfo Anokye Teaching Hospital and Research Fellow, Global Health and Infectious Diseases Research Group, Kumasi Collaborative Centre for Research in Tropical Medicine
13.50 – 14.10	Dissemination and publication of research findings during epidemics Dr Bruce Kirenga – Director, Uganda Lung Institute
14.10 – 15.00	Q&A with presenter panel
15.00	Session End