

Tackling AMR: How implementation research is vital in a One Health approach

Symposium Agenda

23 November 2022

Cape Town, South Africa

8:00 – 9:15	Registration Tea/coffee Setting up lightning presentations Networking
9:15 – 9:30	Welcome remarks - Trudie Lang (Director TGHN)
9:30 – 11:00	  Speaker session 1: View from the top Chair – Marc Mendelson (UCT, South Africa)  AMR and importance of implementation research, experience from SORT IT - Rony Zachariah (TDR, Switzerland) Implementation research in AMR with a one health perspective - from definitions to frameworks for implementation - Sabiha Essack (ICARS, South Africa) Past and future research priorities towards One Health AMR - Laura Marin (JPIAMR, Sweden) A one health approach to AMR, have we got our priorities, right? – Marc Mendelson (UCT, South Africa)
11:00 -11:30	Tea break Networking
11:30 – 13:00	  Speaker session 2: Voices from the frontline Chair - Rob Terry (TDR, Switzerland)  One Health AMR policy implementation, lessons learned - Mirfin Mpundu (ReAct Africa, Zambia) Operational research improves surveillance of antibiotic use in livestock in Sierra Leone – Leno Amara (Sierra Leone) Improving Antimicrobial Resistance Surveillance in Nepal – Jyoti Acharya (Nepal) A sewage treatment plant in Ghana eliminates over 99% of bacteria from effluent discharged into the environment – Lady Adomako (Ghana) Use of Access, Watch, and Reserve (AWaRe), lessons learned - Mike Sharland (St George's University London)
13:00 – 14:00	Lunch break Networking Lightning presentations
14:00 – 16:00	 Keynote and breakout session: Tine Rikke Jørgensen (WHO HQ, Switzerland) One Health Priority Research Agenda    14:30 – 16:00 Breakout activities: Wider stakeholder consultation for One Health Priority Research Agenda
16:00 – 16:20	Tea break Networking
16:20 – 16:50	Feedback and discussions
16:50 – 17:00	Closing remarks and next steps – Yewande Alimi (Africa CDC)