

Critical reading for clinical decision-making in nursing: reading, understanding and applying scientific evidence

ACTIVITY REPORT    IN-PERSON WORKSHOP

17-03-2025 Y 19-03-2025

About the workshop

FORMAT: Presencial

DATES: 17 March 2025, 3.00 pm – 7.00 pm;
19 March 2025, 8.00 am – 12.00 pm

VENUE: Favaloro University, Av Entre Rios, 495
Buenos Aires - Argentina.

ORGANISERS: IECS y The Global Health Network LAC.

Workshop objective

The workshop was dedicated to providing participants with the tools to critically analyse scientific literature, with the aim of improving evidence-based decision-making in their professional practice.

128

Nursing students and residents from Favaloro University and Hospital Británico.

What the participants have achieved:

- The participants have become familiar with the different types of scientific manuscripts;
- Identified the structure and key components of scientific articles, appreciating their relevance within the hierarchy of evidence;
- Applied critical-reading tools to enhance their ability to analyse scientific publications;
- Discussed how to integrate findings from the scientific literature into clinical practice.

Panel of experts

Daniela Moraes Morelli

Daniela Moraes Morelli is Regional Coordinator of Global Research Nurses and serves as a lecturer, mentor and associate researcher at the Institute for Clinical and Health Effectiveness. An expert in healthcare professional education, she sits on the Ethics Committee of the Province of Buenos Aires and acts as a scientific reviewer for international journals.

Miguel Angel Salas

Miguel Angel Salas is Adjunct Professor on the Bachelor of Nursing and the Specialisation in Adult Critical Care Nursing programmes at Universidad Favaloro. He directs the Critical Care Nursing Update Programme (PROECRI) and coordinates the Nursing Critical Care Research Club for Latin America and the Caribbean – The Global Health Network.

Panel of experts

Gustavo Garay

Gustavo Garay is Director of the Nursing Residency in the Critical Care Unit at Hospital Británico. He also contributes to the Nursing Critical Care Research Club for Latin America and the Caribbean, under The Global Health Network.

Yamila Segovia

Yamila Segovia is Coordinator of the Nursing Residency in the Critical Care Unit at Hospital Británico and likewise participates in the Nursing Critical Care Research Club for Latin America and the Caribbean, affiliated with The Global Health Network.

What the workshop entailed

Be part of The Global Health Network community in Latin America and the Caribbean

The Global Health Network has reached a remarkable milestone: one million members worldwide. This dynamic and inclusive community of healthcare professionals and researchers is tackling two of the most urgent challenges in global health. To celebrate, members from around the globe shared their transformative experiences of being part of The Global Health Network.

→ Join the leading medical community

Open Access Resources

Opportunities and challenges in publishing scientific research in nursing

Nursing Critical Care Research Club – Latin America and the Caribbean

Nursing Research Club in Honduras and Argentina

XXI Online Conference of Nursing and ICBA Technicians

NETWORKING OPPORTUNITIES

Interactive Map of The Global Health Network

Be part of The Global Health Network community in Latin America and the Caribbean

The Global Health Network has reached a remarkable milestone: one million members worldwide. This dynamic and inclusive community of healthcare professionals and researchers is tackling two of the most urgent challenges in global health. To celebrate, members from around the globe shared their transformative experiences of being part of The Global Health Network.

→ Join the leading medical community